In this week's installment of useless politicians spotted in the wild, House Speaker Mike Johnson (R-La.) appeared at Columbia University to reprimand pro-Palestine protesters for exercising their free speech rights, once again dredging up the "babies cooked in ovens" myth to try to justify Israel's genocide in Gaza.

With microphones in front of him that could only be heard by the press – there were no actual speakers set up for any of the students and faculty to hear what he was saying – Johnson rattled off a slew of Israeli propaganda linking anti-genocide protesters to pro-Hamas terrorists.

"Israeli women and children were savagely raped and murdered and infants were cooked in ovens," Johnson said while surrounded by his political entourage – watch below.

(Related: From day one, it was obvious that Johnson is an Israel-first neocon – and did you also know that he heavily pushed Wuhan coronavirus [COVID-19] "vaccines," making "getting vaccines into arms" one of his top priorities during the "pandemic?")

Remember when Mike Johnson celebrated the BLM riots for taking on "white privilege?"

The babies cooked in ovens hoax originated from the lips of United Hatzalah President Eli Beer, the head of Israel's emergency medical services department, while speaking to the Republican Jewish Congress in the aftermath of October 7.

This is where that claim originated. And yes, he just made it up

 This is what Eli Beer, head of Israel's EMS service, told the Republican Jewish Congress he saw on October 7:

A pregnant woman having a baby cut out of her in front of her kids, so many beheaded babies he couldn't tell which heads belonged to which bodies, babies baked in...

Within two days of making these false claims, Beer was debunked as a misinformation spreader by Israeli journalists who set the record straight. Johnson apparently missed the memo, though, as he repeated the lie on the steps of a building at Columbia during a staged speech.

Johnson also repeated another common October 7 lie about Hamas "mass rapes" of Israeli citizens. This, too, was made up in the aftermath of October 7 to rile up the country against Hamas in preparation for Israel's planned eventual war against Iran, which the Zionist state expects the United States to fund and execute.

Rep. Mike Lawler (R-N.Y.) also told lies at Columbia about how Hamas "beheaded" babies. Once again, this never happened on October 7 and is merely a shock value ruse aimed at making the American people furious at Gaza to the point that they will justify in their own minds Israel committing genocide against innocent Palestinians.

"What does it say about the ground these AIPAC-funded clowns are standing on that they have to spread atrocity propaganda lies to justify Israel's genocide?" asks Chris Menahan, writing for Information Liberation.

"Where were these clowns when BLM were burning down our cities during the Summer of Floyd in the name of fighting 'white supremacy'? Did anyone in the GOP give a speech defending white people from that blood libel? Of course not. Mike Johnson responded to the BLM riots by crying about how 'white privilege' is real and lamenting how George Floyd was 'objectively' murdered."

"By supporting the genocide of Palestinians by the IDF, Johnson is a certified war criminal," one commenter wrote about America's right-wing House speaker. "He is sending money and lethal weapons supporting a gang of psychopathic murderers."

"The Zionists never stray far from their script," wrote another. "They used this same tactic during WWI to turn Americans against Germany, claiming in all the major newspapers in America that up to that point had been pro-German that German soldiers were killing Red Cross nurses, cutting off babies' hands, etc. in order to manipulate the American public against the Germans."

"This was part of their plan to drag America into WWI on the side of Britain in exchange for the Balfour Declaration and the land grab from Palestine."

No, Hamas did not cook Israeli babies in ovens. Learn more at Propaganda.news.
